

Liz Oakland
Society Relations Manager
CFA Institute

Liz Oakland is a Society Relations Manager at CFA Institute. She works primarily with societies in the Eastern US and across Canada. In her current role, Liz is a management consultant and relationship manager to each local office and board of directors where she consults on a broad range of areas: strategic planning, project management, board governance, organizational effectiveness, and operational improvement. She also supports her regional team as the Project Manager for the Americas CFA Society Leadership Conference.